

THE SATURDAY GROUP (THE ROYAL FAMILY)

The Saturday Group is one of seven day groups at Corpus Christi Church which form the building blocks of the parish. The idea to build the church around the day groups was heartily embraced by the Saturday from the very onset. From the various points where Mass had been celebrated, the Saturday group's involvement has always been paramount.

The group always plays a lead role when it comes to the building of the church both physically and spiritually. When the physical structure of the church came to be built the group played a major role by performing creditably in many fundraising events.

In year 2007, the group adopted the slogan "God's own children" and the response "The Royals". We are Royals because we are more than convinced that no day group comes closer to God than the Saturday Group. This is grounded on the creation account (Genesis 2:1-3). In six days God was working creating the world. The seventh day was when He stood, watched and admired His masterful handiwork. There was joy and great merry making on the seventh day. That is the special day we are associated with. Since it is God's day, we are His own children so we are Royals.

To give the deserved meaning to our name, we are credited with top placing in fundraising events; placing first from 2007-2010 consecutively. Many members of the congregation have wondered how we could do that, but you do not question God what He wants to do with His own children.

We are a group of lovely people, very unassuming but full of spiritual vim when we decide to perform and call on our Father He responds positively to the marvel of all. We have unity and we have love.
